

- Intellectual Capital is by far the most important sustainable competitive advantage for western economies.

What does coping with globalization, market turbulence, complexity and dynamics demand to achieve an improved management of HR & Intellectual resources and Human Capital measurement?

---

- Organizations need to capture the individuals priceless wisdom and develop improved methods of HR/IC management in order to develop the necessary resilience, absorptive capacity and dynamic capabilities. How can this be brought about?

SPONSORED BY THE